

Why use a Zoopla agent?

When it comes to selling your home, you'll want to choose the best representative for the job.

Here's why a Zoopla estate agent is your best bet.

A famous brand

Your property will be listed on Zoopla.co.uk. It's one of the UK's most popular property portals, with over 55 million visits a month.

The perfect match

Because of the way we list properties, we can easily match the most suitable buyers to your home. So you can improve the chances that whoever views your property could be a potential buyer.

Power up with Zoopla's partners

Once it's on Zoopla, your property will also be marketed across a range of partner sites including PrimeLocation.

Support for agents

All our agents are kept fully up to date with the latest market insights by our data company, Hometrack. For example, average price reductions or how long it takes to sell a property in your area.
